Defeat the Harper/Hudak Attack on Workers’ Rights

Campaign Launch and Training
Saturday March 2, 2013
9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Allstream Centre, Exhibition Place
Registration - $50.00

Harper and Hudak are promoting a scheme that would weaken unions, drive down wages and benefits - and harm Canadian society. They plan to change labour laws and then encourage union members to quit their unions and stop paying dues.

Who should attend the March 2nd Campaign Launch?
Union members who are willing to help educate co-workers about this threat.

Register now for this important campaign launch and training.

Harper has already pushed through Bill 377 to disrupt unions by requiring extra-ordinary financial reporting. He may soon seek to silence labour’s progressive political voice and make other regressive changes to labour law.

Here is what Hudak plans to do to working people (if elected in the next provincial election):

1. New labour laws would prohibit any requirement that workers in a unionized workplace become union members or pay union dues. “Free riders” would get the benefits of union membership without paying dues.

2. Employers would no longer be required to collect union dues as a deduction on pay cheques.

3. Government interference in union finances and strike votes would increase and the government would have greater influence on the arbitration of union contracts.
